5. The pay system of industrial workers in Hungary was based on pioce work. A norm is established which must be met in order to receive the minimum base pay. Special bonuses are paid to the Stakhanovites. If a certain number of workers succeed in producing more than the norm, the basic norm is raised for all the workers. Basic pay then is raised, but not proportionally with the norm increase. Frequently, workers have to volunteer additional unpaid hours of work for different projects.
